Confederate Soldier Hangs Himself.

Jerome Peck, aged fifty-four years a veteran of the civil war, committed suicide at his home near Sedalia, Mo., in a horrible manner. He used a heavy wire, one end of which he tied to a rafter and the other around his neck and then jumped from a second story window.

The fall broke his neck and cut his throat from ear to ear.

RAW AS BEEF FROM ECZEMA!

No Torture Equal to the Itching and Burning of This Fearful Disease.

Eczema—which is more than skin disease, ointments, salves, etc., will not cure it. The real cause of the trouble is in the blood, although all suffering is produced through the skin; the only way to reach the disease, therefore, is through the blood.

Phil T. Jones, of Moxierville, Ind., writes: "I had Eczema thirty years, and after a great deal of treatment my leg was so raw and sore that it gave me constant pain. It finally broke into a running sore, and became so bad and great worse. For the past five or six years I have suffered and agonized, and lost all hope of ever being free from the disease, as I have been treated by some of the best physicians, and have taken many different medicines, all with vain. When little more than a year ago I applied to Dr. S. S. E. he immediately made the Eczema worse, but I knew that this was the way the remedy got rid of the poison. Continuing S. S. E., the sore healed up entirely, the skin became clean and smooth and cured perfectly."

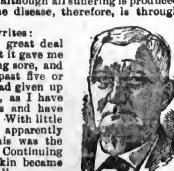

Eczema's an obstinate disease and can not be cured by a remedy which is only a tonic. Swift's Specific not much attention is often paid to the disease, but the little redness begins to itch and burn. This is but the beginning, and will lead to suffering and torture almost unbearable. It is a common mistake to regard a common disease as a rare one, and a merely a local irritation; it is but an indication of a humor in the blood—of terrible soreness, deep, and can not be removed by local application of ointments, salves, etc. The humor is in the blood, although all suffering is produced through the skin; the only way to reach the disease, therefore, is through the blood.

"I had Eczema thirty years, and after a great deal of treatment my leg was so raw and sore that it gave me constant pain. It finally broke into a running sore, and became so bad and great worse. Swift's Specific is superior to other blood remedies because it cures diseases which they can not reach. It goes to the bottom—to the cause of the disease—and will cure the worst case of Eczema, no matter what other treatment has failed. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed to be free from poisons, mercury or any other mineral, and leaves nothing to the Eczema, Scrofula, Gonorrhea, Blood Poison, Cancer, Tetter, Rheumatism, Open Sores, Ulcers, Bolls, etc. Insist upon S. S. E.; nothing can take its place.

Books on these diseases will be mailed free to any address by Swift Specialty Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

KENTUCKY'S

Soldiers Honored By a Noble Shaft.

CHICKAMAUGA BATTLEFIELD.

The monument to the Kentucky soldiers engaged in the battle of Chickamauga was unveiled on last Wednesday in Chickamauga Park. The event was of unusual interest, as the Kentucky monument is the first that honors impartially the soldiers of both sides. The shaft was presented to Governor Bradley by Maj. Thomas H. Hayes, representing the Kentucky Monument Commission. Gov. Bradley in the name of the State presented it to Gen. H. V. Boynton, representing the Chickamauga Park Commissioners. The monument was unveiled by Miss Christine Bradley, daughter of the Governor.

Gov. Bradley's splendid speech closes as follows:

"The monument dedicated to-day in the truth of years, crumble

and fall into dust, but around the summits of Lookout and Missionary Ridge, like gathering mists, shall remain forever the memory of those historic fields and in every heart shall be a monument of love, strength and patriotism which will perpetuate through all coming time the glories of that great conflict."

"Looking into the future, may not the fond hope indulged that in the

and our country, may in all things, be deliberate, just and wise. That our flag may wave in triumph, feared by tyrants in every land and on every front. That beneath its folds shall gather the oppressed, of every clime, and the slave struggling beneath the rod of oppression, feel his chains grow lighter, his heart leap with joy and hail its colors as a deliverance, that nations, which have been bitten

by the serpent of rapacity and conquest, shall look upon its folds and be healed, as those, who, with faith, looked upon the brazen serpent that was lifted in the wilderness. God said that ours may be the victory of enlightenment and liberty, the triumph of right over might, of justice

over injustice, of humanity over cruelty and oppression, until empires shall have passed away and the nations of the earth become one."

Failure to Appeal Leads to a Damage Suit.

The Frankfort correspondent of the Courier-Journal says:

"Attorney Courtland Chenault, of this city, has filed suit in the Clark Circuit Court for John Cunningham, of Paris, Bourbon county, against W. B. Smith, of Madison county, for $5,000 damages for his alleged failure to prosecute an appeal to the Court of Appeals. Cunningham, as plaintiff in a will contest case in Bourbon county, in which he lost out, claims he have employed Smith as attorney to appeal the case to the Court of Appeals. He now charges that the two-year-old limit in such cases has expired, and the appeal being filed, he has been damaged in the sum for which judgment is asked."

The healthy old man wears his gray hairs like a silver crown. What if he is threescore and ten if there is still fire in his eye, firm in his step, command in his voice and wisdom in his counsel? He commands love and reverence. How few wear the mantle of age with dignity. Dignity, querulous of speech, halting in step, childlike in mind, they drag superfluous on the stage," dragging out the fat end of life in a simple existence. The secret of a healthy old age is a healthy middle age. The man who takes care of his stomach, who keeps his body properly nourished, will find that the body does not fail him in old age. The great value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery lies in the preservation of the working power of the stomach and the other organs of digestion and nutrition. From this center is distributed the nourishment of the whole body, the salt for the blood, the lime of the bones, phos-phates for the brain and nerves. A sound stomach means a sound man. A man who keeps his stomach supplied by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" will wear the gray hair as benefits a man, with dignity and ease.

On Thursday, Mrs. G. S. Savage will discuss the Woman's Missionary Report; Rev. G. H. Means will speak on "The Value of Denominational Schools;" and Prof. B. T. Spencer on "A Layman's View of Ministerial Education."

Dr. Savage will be Chairman of the Board to examine all applicants for license, admission and orders.

Not Pleased With the Prospect in Cuba.

Advices from Havana state that Spanish residents declare that they will leave when the American troops go, and that all the business interests of Cubans are apprehensive of native control. In the interior districts the Spaniards are kept in constant discomfort by anonymous threats and occasional outrages. Last month 6,648 persons left Cuba for the United States, many of whom were Spanish, bound ultimately for Spain. Passage to Europe by the French and Spanish lines is being booked three or four months ahead. The hope of all the larger material holdings of the island is in the permanence of American occupancy.

What Do You Think of It?

If this Spanish war business is to be carried on in Winchester The Prowler is willing to agree to an armistice right away. One of the Mauers rifles has been on exhibition at Baldwin Bros., for several days, and Saturday evening while Raud was mousing keying with the outfit, the gun went off, the bullet tearing a brick out of the front of the Democrat office, passed through three partitions, knocked our engine out of gear, busted two bricks out of the back wall, and for all we know the bullet is going yet.

Luckily for us the force had all quit work, or we would likely have been compelled to take to the woods. If you don't believe this story, come and see where it knocked out the bricks.

Sorghum as Food for Cattle.

Mr. C. M. Clay, Jr., has been raising sorghum for several years as cattle feed. He sows it in May with wheat drill, planting about one bushel to the acre. It is cut with the ordinary mower before frost in fall, and piled in large shocks. He leaves it in this condition until he feels it out. He says that if properly put up it will keep nicely all winter. It feeds well with corn in this form. He says his experience is it the cheapest and best feed grown.—Paris Reporter.

Freaks of Nature.

CLARK PLEDGED.

What County Will Next Show

Her Hand.

The following is from the Winchester Sun:

"Let every Democrat in the District buckle on his armor and we will elect Col. Hamilton as our next Railroad Commissioner. It is being told that Wood was elected by about 8,000 majority. That is true, but the Congressional election last fall showed the district went Republican by only about 2,000. By a united pull and a pull all together that majority can be overcome, and Clark county will do her part in the fight."

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

FOR LEGISLATURE—
I. N. GREENE,
Montgomery County.
FOR RAILROAD COMMISSIONER, 3rd District—
COL A. W. HAMILTON,
Montgomery County.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce John H. Chenuel, of Madison county as candidate for State Auditor, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Mr. Green R. Keller, of Nicholas county, as a candidate for Secretary of State, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce M. A. Cassidy, of the county of Fayette, a candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

I am a candidate for re-election as Railroad Commissioner, of Madison party, I base my claims upon life-long adherence to the principles of my party; loyalty to all its non-res; years of earnest effort for its success, and faithful and courageous performance of my official duties.

Respectfully,
John C. Wood.

Hon. P. Wat Hardin, big and little u, has had printed and issued a cartoon after this description: In the left hand corner is a four by six picture of Hon. J. C. S. Blackburn; in the right hand one of Hon. W. J. Bryan of same dimensions, and in the center a picture of his own dear self, a great big picture of a great big man (?) 14x15, signed P. Wat Hardin for Governor. Above these pictures are the words:

"The champion of the people," under Blackburn; "Together in defeat," and under Bryan "Together in victory."

This picture with this language is to illustrate that statement of Mr. Hardin, "I am the logical candidate." What do the people think of this ingenuity of a man who once led a victorious party to defeat? Willing is he to take the chances of again dashing the Democratic boat on the same rocks as he did in 1895. To us that picture illustrates this thought: Hon. P. Wat Hardin would push aside the background, Bryan and Blackburn, with all chances against him, for only a hope cherished that there is a probability he can be elected if nominated. Do the people want such a man for the head of the Democratic ticket? Will they have him? These attacks on Stone's soundness on the money question are not fair, neither are they honest. He does it hoping thereby to cover his own tracks. Who is Hardin? What was he as Attorney General? Who did the work for the State? Who drew the salary? Who got the extra pay? Did Wat Hardin have even an office while Attorney General? What has he ever accomplished at any time? Who was it by incincerity in accepting a nomination with a declared platform from his lips at variance with the one under his feet, that allowed a Democratic majority to be overcome by the Republicans, electing a Republican Legislature, which in turn elected a Republican United States Senator, and the election machinery being in the hands of the victors, permitted Kentucky in 1896 to be counted against W. J. Bryan? This picture illustrationist won't do; his life is an open book that has been read by too many. He is only a logical candidate to bring defeat to the party again. This language may be plain, but we feel it our duty to sound the note of warning, and this we have done.

RAILROAD COMMISSIONER—
ER—WHO WILL IT BE?

Montgomery has two candidates, one a prominent Republican and the other equally as prominent a Democrat. The present incumbent, J. C. Wood, has a record; he can tell the people what he has accomplished for them. Col. A. W. Hamilton has only to promise what he has in store.

It is true Mr. Hamilton will be handicapped, there being a Republican majority of 2,000 and upward. In addition, and the more disheartening, Mr. Wood is pledged to carry a majority from the November election amounting to 15,000. We might have requested our candidate to withdraw from the race after such a pledge of Mr. Wood had not the occasion and time dictated it. The occasion was the closing of a convention in which was manifested strife and turmoil not a little, and such a pledge was only oil upon the troubled waters, on the principle of "all things to all men." Mr. Wood knew that was the thing needed for that body, hence the pledge of 15,000. Then Mr. Wood was feeling good, just having been nominated, like the fellow who had taken an exhilarant in order to increase his salary.

These things properly weighed and considered from every standpoint, Mr. Hamilton will continue the race. Mr. Wood can't get the 15,000 majority, from the fact there is not that much blood in the turnip in question; neither can he get a majority of 10,000 for the same reason; and if Mr. Stone or Mr. Goebel is the nominee at the head of the State ticket with fleet running mates, Mr. Wood's chances for election will be very much weakened. A strong Democratic State ticket and an average Republican ticket will give Col. Hamilton fighting chances. This is all he asks of the parties. If they will do this, he will do the rest.

HILL AND JAKE.

Speaking of Derbies, that's going to be "a race from end to end," as old Frank Harper used to express it, between Will Hamilton and Jack Wood in the third Railroad Commissioner's district. Hamilton is handicapped by an adverse Republican majority of from 2,000 to 10,000, but if it is possible for breeding, courage, speed and endurance to overcome such large odds, it will be another case of Eclipse.—Louisville Times.

The Louisville Dispatch, launched as a Democratic paper in the interest of the masses, now Allen R. Carter and others' paper, from its recent statement which was made up since the completion of its present alliances makes to all appearances a healthy showing. It is remembered however "all is not gold that glitters" and also that this statement is not the only one made up by Allen R. Carter and others.

A Letter From Arthur Fitzpatrick

Mills, P. J., U. S. A.)
March 22, 1899.

Dear Mother:

We landed here after a 25 day's trip from Honolulu. On the way we encountered a storm and waves were rolling twenty and thirty feet high, sometimes rolling over the deck, of our boat.

We now have 100 cartridges each and are expecting to go on the firing line at any moment. The enemy is very much afraid of our guns and I think we can whip them in a few minutes.

We are living in houses made of bamboo and nearly everything is tied instead of nailed. The harricks are very cool as they are full of windows and doors. We have mosquito bars and so those pests don't bother us. There are monkeys here in great numbers, and some of them are very tame. Bananas and coconuts grow very thick and palms are common as oaks in the States. The days are awful hot but the nights are very cool. The climate is pleasant and none too hot at that. We only drill one hour a day, so have plenty of time to look around. There is an old church and also a grave-yard. The church was badly damaged by our battery, but the walls are still standing, and three feet thick. In the graveyard are many vaults which are buried for five years and at the end of that time if the rent is not paid the bodies are thrown out. On this account the yard is full of skeletons.

To day a native was burying his baby, and when we went in he showed us a permit to bury. I probably think we were generalists. They never say where he dug a grave for his own child and at the same time trying to smile and be friendly to us.

You must excuse me but I started this letter and had to go to the firing lines before finishing it. Now, I know what it is to be a soldier but it is not as bad as I expected. I often wonder how our company came out without losing a man. We spent ten days chasing the negroes and are now in for a short rest, expecting to go to the front, in a short time again. For three or four days we laid in traps to catch the negroes, and then went after them. We found them in strong trenches and a stone church. The church fell after a charge, and the negroes left their trenches and ran to the woods, but not before we had killed several hundred more. Then we captured nine prisoners. Then we went to a small river and were marching up a road along its bank when suddenly the bullets began to sing us once more. We halted, knelt down and continued to march. We were driving along little good up. Our cannon began to bark, for the town was built of stone, and the enemy was again in a church, and they cut holes through the rock for their rifles so we could not see them, but finally the town surrendered and we took it without a struggle.

Then we went into camp for a few days and made a march of thirty miles, driving the negroes across a large lake. This march was very hard on me, but I finally made it back to town. I often wonder how our company came out without losing a man, and found only two dead, while hundreds of negroes were buried for their deaths. We then marched eight miles to camp, making about 40 miles in two days on but two meals and short water supply. Hoping to hear from you soon, I am

Your loving son,

ARTHUR.

To Rest Women.

Many women don't have time to rest. It work, work, work, day after day with them. As a consequence they are always tired. That kind of life soon affects the constitution. About the first evidence of this is weakness or derangement of the female organs. That means constant aches and pains in the head, back, sides, hips and legs. Women silently suffer that way year after year. But they need not suffer. No woman works so hard that she must be tired all the time. By taking McElree's Wine of Carduol, the great vegetable medicine made especially for the peculiar ailments of women, she can get relief. This makes a woman so strong that her work will not tire her as formerly. It gives her natural, restful sleep. Thousands of American women substantiate these statements. Any tired woman can quickly prove them by buying a bottle of Wine of Carduol. Of this medicine J. W. Lawrence, of Corsicana, writes:

"My wife was tired all the time and was so weak she could scarcely walk. I got one bottle of Wine of Carduol for her, and before she had taken all of it, she was able to do all of her house work."

JOHN C. WOOD
Nominated For Railroad Commis-

At Richmond last week our townswoman, John C. Wood, was nominated by the Republicans as their candidate for Railroad Commissioner. The opposition spent much time in a vain effort to consolidate their forces against the Mt. Sterling man, and when the 6th ballot was called the tumble took place, every candidate getting from under. Mr. Wood was then unanimously nominated, feelings for the present were curbed, and every one tended like they were more than pleased. After Mr. Wood's speech accepting the nomination, the body flung their hats in the air and belched forth in strains of eloquence that tested the roof and walls of that building.

"He That Stays Does the Business."

All the world admires "staying power." On this quality success depends. The blood is the best friend the heart has, and "faint heart" never won anything. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best friend the blood ever had; it cleanses the blood of everything.

If you would be strong in the race of life, "do the business," you must "stay." Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the struggle easy. It gives clear, strong blood; hence perfect health ensues.

"The Rolling of Liver, which troubled me last winter, was entirely blotted out over my body." Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills cured me." Miss Anna, 225 South Wolf St., Baltimore, Md.

"All Run Down." — I was ill in the morning and night, and could not eat or sleep. Three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla built me up and cured me.

"I have had a severe attack of rheumatism, which has been very painful among ladies, there were some weird creatures from the desert, or the prairie, or the jungle that nowadays found their way into a household."

Several instances were given. As a rule, she ladies prefer small animals as pets. A very popular pet is the coatimundi, which is sometimes known as an ant-eater. It comes in South America, and it very quickly becomes tame. It is about the size of a badger, and can be safely kept in the house, or it can be allowed to frolic about in the garden if there are not too many flowers.

The squirrel, which comes from South America, very rapidly adapts itself to a quiet domestic life. The late Frank Buckland always kept two specimens in his room. The squirrel is a carnivorous animal, about as large as a ferret, and is a great favorite with Zulus and Kaffirs, who almost worship it.

Lately there has been a great demand for the mongoose, a curious little animal which is introduced in one of Rudyard Kipling's famous jungle tales. The mongoose, which no doubt owes its popularity to Kipling, has rather a fiery spirit, and is as fierce as a rat-chaser, but it can be remarkably tame, and then it finds a warm place in the heart of lady admirers.

Up to a few years ago, the squirrel, a native of South America, had a prominent place in English homes, but it ran away before the advance of the railway engine, and is now running wild in inaccessible parts of the great southern continent. Formerly the kinkajou, which has a very prehensile tail, was seen in many houses, but it is now rarely seen. There is one in the zoological gardens, and the keeper proudly shows it to the visitors, who at once fall in love with it. Among animals other than dogs which ladies keep as pets are large squirrels, Australian possums and kangaroos.

Birds as pets have gone almost out of fashion, and there is now scarcely any demand for them. In the old days well-stocked aviaries were to be seen in nearly every lady's house, but the poor birds have been forsaken since the advent of bicycles, and they are scarcely ever inquired for now.

At the present time the most popular bird is the orange-flanked parrot, which is delightfully tame, one of its principal recommendations being that it willingly takes its food while perched on a lady's finger.—London Mail.

Trusting in God and doing our duty. These are words which bind us together. If you and I can feel that those who know us feel by us that we are trusting God and doing our duty, it is enough to teach us that this is a ground of communion which neither the difference of external types nor the difference of sex and countenances can ever efface.—Dean Stanley.

Look in Your Mirror

makes women beautiful and healthy. It strikes at the root of all their trouble. There is no constitutional disorder, ache or pain which it will not cure. QUEER ENGLISH PETS. Those Have Been Tamed.

In the ordinary course of things we would consider as desirable household pets, but in the neighborhood of Regent's park, appropriately enough, there is one often to be seen taking its walk abroad, securely muzzled, and in the charge of either a lady or a gentleman.

A Daily Mail representative called the attention of Mr. Albert E. Jaram, the naturalist, of St. George street, E., to the fact, and asked him whether keeping such a pet was not considered a vice. His answer was that it was common to do it now. He added, "I might say that while wolves were not very popular among ladies, there were some weird creatures from the desert, or the prairie, or the jungle that nowadays found their way into a household."

Death Has Resulted from the Zinc Chloride in Overcasts.

CONDUCTOR'S LITTLE MISTAKE.

Ground Clovers Not a Good Substitute for Coffee.

A conductor got up early the other morning and got his own breakfast. He is not used to this, as his wife, who had the griddle on this occasion, is used to getting it herself first. He is fond of strong coffee for his early meal, and filling the pot with water, he prepared four tablespoonfuls of what he took to be coffee.

It was only after he had taken a few sips of this "coffee" that he discovered his mistake. He then asked his wife, "What's the matter with the coffee?" She was fed. The question of digestion and nourishment had not entered into his calculations.

He is a "green-fingered" farmer that works at such an experiment with a cow. But many a farmer feels him self regardless of digestion and nutrition. He is fond of strong coffee for his early meal, and filling the pot with water, he prepared four tablespoonfuls of what he took to be coffee.

After all was done, the coffee pot steamed, and steam well browned, he sat by his own self to break his fast. The coffee did not seem very hot, so he drank off half the cup in three or four swallows. Then the rooster started. He liked a maniac. His trembling little wife ran out to her husband, shouting about one foot, and screaming like a maniac.

He had to stop the pipe and drank off two quarts of cold water and then quenched down enough to ask, "What in thunder's the matter with the coffee?" She smelled of it, and said: "Well, dear, you mistook the ground clovers for the coffee, that's all!"—Lewiston Journal.

Four Ages of Man.

The milk trust reaches the infant as he first sees the world; the ice trust cools him in the summer, the coal trust keeps him warm in the winter, while the coffin trust waits to receive him when life's fitful dream is over.

From William J. Bryan's Speech at Milwaukee, April 13, 1899.

The little baby born to-day,

Forced into a world he does not know,

With eyelids closed at first approach,

Not knowing whether his feet may go,

Opens wide its startled eyes,

And reads in letters large and clear,

Painted on the cottage door,

MILK TRUST LOCATED HERE.

Life's summer comes, the babe has grown

Into a youth, as all babes grow;

He plays at games and goes to school,

And sows wild oats, as all youths sow,

But never comes with summer sun,

Bringing to his parents many a tear,

While painted on the fence he sees

ICE TRUST LOCATED HERE.

Old age has come; his tattered frame

Is feeble, and his limbs are weak

And cold, while in his chair he sits,

Near the fire, its warmth to seek,

When peeling through the open door,

Across the street he reads this sign:

COAL TRUST LOCATED HERE.

His time is up, and death has called

To take him from this mortal soil,

And bear him to the great beyond,

And from this world's strife and toil,

And takes his last long breath.

His eyes stare out with mortal fear,

For on the wall he reads this sign:

COFFIN TRUST LOCATED HERE.

I wonder if in days to come,

When all the trusts are gathered home

By Satan in the lower sphere,

If they won't find on hats' gate,

In letters big and round and great,

FIRE TRUST LOCATED HERE.

EXTRACT

From the New York Speech of Judge Tarvin, of Covington.

The instinct of human freedom is a great factor. It has overthrown monarchies and destroyed empires; it has torn down kings and become the master of emperors; it has dominated the history of the world and brought civilization out of barbarism; it laid the foundations of this government and inspired the hearts of the people; it is as strong to-day as ever before; it will awaken again, as it has so often done in the past, and when awakened will accomplish its work with more completeness than ever before; organizations of aristocracy, of wealth, and parties will fall before it; it will inspire the people of the world; it will gather them together under the banner of Democracy, upon a platform of self-defense, and bind them together in hope and aspiration, and I believe the time is near at hand when they will be so weakened that their ends will be accomplished, that government will be for man's benefit and not for his undoing, and that legislation will be for man's benefit and not for his undoing, and that the common and universal hope and cry will be "No Master of Money, No Tyranny of Wealth."

The nominee of the Democratic national convention of 1900 for the presidency will be named by acclamation.

He will not be one who claims to be a Democrat, and at the same time advocate the gold standard, and, while friendly to the gold standard, is so inconsistent and so lacking in regard for the ties of kinship and interest as to denounce the trustee, but that nominee will be a representative, tried and true of the only democracy of this Union—the Democracy of the Chicago platform of 1896.

The British Government has just now a difficult problem to deal with in respect to South Africa. Twenty thousand Ulstermen, Englishmen, Americans and other outside people doing business in the Transvaal Republic have petitioned Queen Victoria, as successor, to interfere for the redress of their grievances against the Boers. The rule of the South African Dutch farmers has been thoroughly despotic and selfish, and has cut them off from what little sympathy they had in the beginning in the outside world. It is inevitable that the whole of South Africa shall come fully under the British flag.

MR. BRYAN

WILL BE NOMINATED IN 1900

For President, Thinks the Editor of the World.

In an interview at London, England, last week, Joseph Pulitzer, editor of the New York World, is quoted as having said:

"It seems to be assured that Bryan will again be the Democratic nominee for President next year."

"Will he be supported by a united party?" asked the reporter.

"That," Pulitzer rejoined, "all depends on his good sense or folly. If he again puts the free silver issue to the fore and fights on it many in the party will stand aloof. If he is content to let free silver sink to the background and fight the battle on the great questions of expansion or anti-expansion, and anti-monopoly or trusts, then he will receive wide support. Not only will he have the united Democratic party behind him, but he will also be supported by vast hosts of moderate people who have been alienated by the new departure from our constitutional government which the present imperialist policy means."

At Sharpsburg.

On Saturday evening, May 20, at 8 o'clock, at the public school building in Sharpsburg, Mr. J. C. Cummings will give a phonograph concert—Admission 10 cents. He has shown in several countries.

What Next?

At Columbus, Ohio, the officers of several of the leading churches have decided that ladies must remove their hats in church. The Baptist church has hit upon a new scheme for enforcing the rule. They have employed several maids who will wait upon the ladies as they enter, and take their hats and wraps, issuing checks for them. It is believed that this will cultivate the habit of removing hats.

In Circuit Court at Lebanon, Ky., on last Wednesday, the L. & N. railroad was fined $2,000 for unjust discrimination in freight rates. This is the first of fourteen cases of the kind to be tried.

What Shall We Do?

A serious and dangerous disease prevails in this country, dangerous because so deceptive. It comes on so slowly yet surely that it is often firmly seated before we are aware of it.

The name of this disease may be divided into three distinct stages: 1st, kidney trouble, indicated by a pain in the back, rheumatism, lumber, frequent desire to urinate, often with a burning sensation, the flow of urine being copious or scant with strong odor.

If allowed to advance, this reaches the second stage, or bladder trouble, with heavy pain in the abdomen, low down between the navel and the water passage, increasing desire to urinate, with scalding sensation in passing, small quantities being passed with difficulty, sometimes necessary to draw it with instruments. If urine acid or gravel has formed it will prove dangerous if neglected.

The third stage is Bright's disease. There is comfort in knowing that Dr. Kilmer, the greatest kidney and bladder specialist, has discovered a remedy famous for its marvelous cures of the most distressing cases and known as Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root.

Is sold by all druggists.

As a proof of the wonderful virtues of this great discovery, Swamp Root, a sample bottle and book of valuable information will be sent absolutely free by mail on application to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

KENTUCKY BATTLESHP P

Silver Service Contract Let—Cost $6,000; Weight, 2,700 Ounces.

The contract for the silver service for the battleship Kentucky was let at Louisville last week to a firm in Philadelphia.

The service will be composed of more than seventy pieces, and, next to those of the battleship Indiana and the cruiser New York, will probably be the handsomest on any ship in the United States navy. The centerpiece will be the most elaborate of the service. It will be forty-four inches in length and will have five lights surmounted on each end. Electricity or candle can be used, and the effect will be attractive. Silver shades will also be included. From the middle of the centerpiece will rise a loving cup, which can be removed. On one side of the cup will be engraved a full relief figure of Daniel Boone. On the other side will be an engraving of an American Indian. An eagle with corn and tobacco clutched in his talons and the seal of the State of Kentucky will also ornament the loving cup.

The punch bowl will have a diameter of twenty-seven inches and a capacity of fourteen gallons. It will be gold-lined.

At one end will be an engraving of Daniel Boone, and on the other an American Indian. On each side will be an eagle, the seal of the State of Kentucky, and the seal of the American navy. The punch bowl will be ornamented with an engraving of sea weed and will be gold-lined.

The bowl will be decorated with the seal of the State and navy.

Eighteen gold-lined punch cups will go with the bowl. The cups will be ornamented with engravings of State products, such as corn, tobacco and hemp.

A saucer will also be a part of the service. The water pitcher will be fourteen inches high. On it will be engraved an eagle in relief and an etching of the battleship Kentucky going at full speed. Four silver tumblers and a water bowl on a large, round silver walter will go with the pitchers.

Two large platters, a soup tureen and ladle and eighteen plates and eighteen finger bowls will complete the set. The silver service will weigh 2,700 ounces.

United States Pays Spain $20,000,000.

The last move in the negotiations terminating the war with Spain was made at Washington on Monday, May 1st, when Secretary Hay paid to the French Ambassador, M. Cambon, the $20,000,000 provided by the treaty of peace for the cession of the Philippines. The payment was made in four treasury warrants of $5,000,000 each, and was received by M. Cambon, completely invalidating the obligation of the United States in this connection.

VERDICT

FOR $12,000 WAS AFFIRMED

In Favor of John W. Prewitt's Administrator.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the case of the Union Warehouse Company against John W. Prewitt's administrator, from Louisville. Prewitt was a prominent farmer of Clark county, and fell through the elevator shaft in the Union Warehouse several years ago and was killed. Suit for damages resulted after three trials in a verdict for $12,000, and this was on last Wednesday affirmed.

The third stage is Bright's disease.

Death of Eugene Atkinson.

Eugene Atkinson was born August 30, 1876, in Nicholas county, Ky., and died April 29, 1898, at Hazel Green, Ky. His parents both died in 1884 in Cass county, Mo, leaving him and an only brother, some years later.

Being thus left parentless, he was taken to live with his uncle, John D. Atkinson, of Stanton, Ky., who was both father and companion to him. He entered Hazel Green Academy Jan 1, 1893, and remained as a pupil four years. His last year in the academy was partly spent in teaching classes in shorthand and typewriting. He was always a careful, painstaking student, and rose rapidly in studies and favor with both teachers and pupils. He was peculiarly gifted as a speaker, possessing much oratorical ability, and represented Hazel Green academy in a contest at Cynthiana, May 17, 1895.

In the contest he was declared the best speaker on the program. After leaving school he lived at Clay City and Stanton, but his health failing rapidly caused him to give up work and seek rest. For nearly two years prior to his death he was a constant sufferer. He came back to Hazel Green in September last, in the hope of growing better, and for a time it seemed he would recover his health. But, alas, that dread disease knew no relaxing, and finally carried him away from his loved ones last Friday.

In the spring of 1893 Eugene gave himself to the Christ and became an active member of his church. He ever remained a consistent member being a faithful worker in the church, Sunday-school and Christian Endeavor.—W. H. Cord, in Hazel Green Herald.

Col. Turner Sells His Valuable Tract of Timber Land

Col. Thomas Turner, of this city, on last Friday sold to Floyd Day his valuable tract of 6,000 acres of timber land, lying in Wolfe and Menefee counties for $22,248, equivalent to cash. On this land is some of the finest timber in Kentucky.

Mr. Day is a member of the firm of Day Bros., of Jackson, who are among the largest lumber dealers in the state.

Fire.

From some unknown cause fire broke out in the Julian Building, corner of Mayfield and Main streets, last Saturday morning. No one had been in the house since Mr. L. A. Wilcox left his business early the evening before. The building was formerly occupied by J. B. Tipton in the sale of drugs. It is possible a loose match was lit by a mouse or rat and that this caused the fire. Had it started a few hours earlier serious damage to property in that section would have most likely resulted.

The first floor is literally destroyed; really the only items of value left to this ancient building. It is likely that Mr. Julian will erect in its place a modern model structure, which would be an ornament to the city. Such a building would find no lack of occupants at a paying interest on the part of the lessors.

The building was insured in Coleman Bros. agency for $1,500, and the loss we would think would be at least that amount. Mr. Wilcox's insurance on stock, etc. was only $500.

Official Vote of Bath County.

County Judge—J. A. Daugherty, 681; L. S. Rogers, 601, D. S. Trumbo, 186.

Superintendent of Schools—W. P. Perry, 631; J. D. Myers, 601.

Surveyor—A. Shront, 783.

Means getting the greatest possible measure of satisfaction and intrinsic value for the smallest price. A Suit, Hat, Shoes, or any other garment or article which is disappointing to you in either service or style is not cheap at any price. Our clothes are built with a view to giving the wearers the requisite strength, style and beauty, which makes our clothes successful competitors with the product of first-class merchant tailors at about half the price. Extreme fancy patterns limited in quantity to about the same amount of garments as your tailor would have, insuring for you that exclusiveness which is the chief inducement to have your clothes made to measure. We can fit you with one "try-on" in handsomest line of Cheviots, Cashmeres, Worsted you ever saw.

Idol Wilkes (sire) 11, L. 2.08½. Robert Wilkes 2.03½, and four others), by Geo. Wilkes 2.22 (the greatest trotting sire of 50), first dam by Hambletonian 10.

Darby 441 (sire of Lady Thorn 2.25, and R. F. C. 2.22½), the greatest of broad mare sires, Mambrino Patchen 58.

Royal George 83, record 2.35½, (sire of Lady Byron 2.23), by black stallion.

AARON ALLEG's blood lines are good and strong, uniting the blood of Geo. Wilkes and Mambrino Patchen, called the "golden cross". He has fine natural action, has never been on a track, but has trotted a dirt lane a measured quarter, to road cart, in 40 seconds. His colts are large, handsome, stylish horses, some of them having shown speed, and all are good sellers. I do not claim that we will find lookers from all little scrubby farms, but say that I have seen some such from owners of this description.

Knowing that we needed a large, handsome, stylish, well-bred trotting stallion here, so that the foals, if they did not trot well, might go to market. I hunted Kentucky and found just such a horse.

Fifteen hundred ($1500) dollars has been refused for him, and he will stand at the exceeding low price of $10.00 Cash.

Or, note due in six month, with return privilege.

Limited to two mares per day. Those booked will be given preference.

Railroad Connection.

A proposition has been made by parties amply able to construct a road from here to a point on the Lexington & Eastern, and if accepted, the road will be completed by January 1, 1900. There will be a meeting of the citizens of Mt.
Sterling and Montgomery county on Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, in the Baum block, to consider the proposition. Every business man is urged to be present.
Such a line would make this a competitive point and would save a large amount to our people each year in the way of reduced freights.

mean a great spiritual uplift to our city. It certainly means stirring times for our business men in every

Our Export Trade.

In a speech at St. Louis, Dr. W. P. Wilson, of Philadelphia, an expert in matters of commerce, made the following instructive and significant statement, concerning the growth of the foreign commerce of the United States:

"Almost without our knowledge, in many cases without the manufacturer most benefited knowledge why, our export trade has increased to such an enormous extent that last year we reached the second place in total trade of the world, and ranked first as an exporting nation. Over $120,000,000 worth of American products were paid for by coin from foreign pockets, and of this enormous sum $300,000,000 represented the product of American manufacturers' skill and intelligence. And this growth has been despite the lack of concentrated, systematic effort. Why has this growth taken place? Simply because, so far as food stuffs are concerned, the nations of the world must have our raw material. So far as manufactured goods are concerned, it has grown because the foreigner has recognized that in nine cases out of ten the American manufacturer article is the standard for quality."

How Trusts Operate.

In a recent speech Hon. James A. Scott made the following statement which will show how trusts operate: "I met a representative of the tobacco trust last week who told me that hereafter Kentucky farmers would be paid only six cents a pound for their crops. I told him that tobacco could not be raised for that price. He said that they would be compelled to raise it at that price, or else the trust would buy land, import cheap Indian labor and raise its own tobacco. He further told me that the coffee trust had done the same way with the coffee planters and succeeded and the tobacco trust would do likewise. I think it time for the people to organize to fight the trusts."

Fool Prospect For Reporters.

"had a strange dream the other night," said the Major.

"What was it?" asked the young thing.

"I went to heaven, and as an old newspaper man was interested in their paper up there. It was a miserable place; not a well written story in it, and I told St. Peter so."

"What did he say?"

"He said: 'It's not our fault. We never get any good reporters up here!'"—Philadelphia Press.
